BEDMINSTER, N.J., May 16, 2011 /PRNewswire via COMTEX/ --

GAIN Capital Holdings, Inc. (NYSE: GCAP), a global provider of online trading services, announced today its results for the quarter ended March 31, 2011, a share repurchase plan and provided information regarding the closing of its acquisition of dbFX, Deutsche Bank's retail foreign exchange trading business.

- Closed dbFX acquisition on May 13, 2011 and, based on preliminary figures, added approximately $55 million in client assets and approximately 1,650 clients.
- Approved a $10 million share repurchase plan

First Quarter Financial and Operating Results:

(Note: Percentage changes are referenced to the first quarter, 2010)

- Net revenue of $40.4 million, versus $42.0 million in first quarter 2010
- Net income of $1.4 million and adjusted net income<sup>(*)</sup> of $2.5 million, versus $66.0 million and $6.5 million in first quarter 2010, respectively
- Retail trading volume of $402.5 billion and institutional trading volume of $110.1 billion, an increase of 38% and 355%, respectively

- Funded retail accounts of 85,698 and client assets of $283.0 million as of March 31, 2011, an increase of 32% and 34%, respectively

Glenn Stevens, chief executive officer, commented, "As a result of the continued investment in our business, including product and service enhancements, in the first quarter 2011 we saw robust retail trading volume, reaching $402.5 billion, a 38% increase over first quarter 2010, and a very strong increase in institutional trading volume of 355% compared to the first quarter 2010. In addition, there were significant increases in traded retail accounts, funded retail accounts and client assets, up 18%, 32% and 34%, respectively, in a challenging market environment. We were also pleased that we were able to successfully complete the dbFX acquisition and look forward to providing the former dbFX customers our world-class customer service and trading experience."

Mr. Stevens added, "Low market volatility in the first two months of the year and changes in the mix of retail trading volume hampered our first quarter 2011 revenue capture efforts. However, in March we began to see market conditions change significantly due to the turmoil in the Middle East and Japan, the worsening of the debt crises in Europe, and the continued weakening of the US dollar. This trend has continued into the second quarter and our year-to-date revenue capture has returned to historical levels."

Closing of dbFX Acquisition

On May 13, 2011, GAIN Capital closed its acquisition of assets of dbFX, Deutsche Bank's retail foreign exchange trading business. As of such date, based on preliminary figures, a total of approximately $55 million of former dbFX client assets, and approximately 1,650 client accounts, transferred to GAIN Capital's retail division, FOREX.com. The acquisition agreement also provides for the referral of retail forex clients from Deutsche Bank to GAIN Capital over the two-year period following the closing of the transaction.

"The dbFX acquisition is one example of how we look to effectively invest our capital to enhance shareholder value," said Henry Lyons, chief financial officer. "We'll continue to pursue attractive acquisition opportunities in keeping with our consolidation strategy, as well as invest in driving organic growth. We are committed to investigating all opportunities that will put our capital to good use."

Stock Repurchase Plan

The company also announced that its Board of Directors has approved a share repurchase plan which authorizes the expenditure of up to $10 million for the purchase of the company's common stock over a one-year period. The amount and timing of specific repurchases, if any, will depend on market conditions, the trading price of GAIN Capital's common stock and other factors.

(*) Reconciliation of Net Income to Adjusted Net Income:

GAIN Capital's previously outstanding Convertible, Redeemable Preferred Stock Series A, Series B, Series C, Series D, and Series E contained a redemption feature which allowed the holders of our preferred stock at any time on or after March 31, 2011 to require us to repurchase such securities. We had determined that this redemption feature effectively provided such holders with an embedded option derivative meeting the definition of an "embedded derivative" pursuant to FASB ASC 815, Derivatives and Hedging. Consequently, the embedded derivative was required to be bifurcated and accounted for separately. This redemption feature and related accounting treatment is no longer required to be recognized following conversion of all of our then outstanding preferred stock into common stock in connection with our IPO. Historically, in accordance with FASB ASC 815, we adjusted the carrying value of the embedded derivative to the fair value of our Company at each reporting date, based upon the Black-Scholes options pricing model, and reported the preferred stock embedded derivative liability on the Consolidated Statements of Financial Condition with changes in fair value recorded in our Consolidated Statements of Operations and Comprehensive Income. Historically, this impacted our net income, but did not affect our cash flow generation or operating performance. This accounting treatment caused our earnings to fluctuate, but in our view was not indicative of our historical or expected future operating performance.

Adjusted net income is a non-GAAP financial measure and, for periods prior to 2011, represented our net income/(loss) excluding (i) the change in fair value of the embedded derivative in our preferred stock and (ii) the after-tax impact of amortization of purchased intangibles. As noted above, the embedded derivative in our preferred stock was extinguished at the time of our IPO. Accordingly, beginning in 2011, we will no longer include an adjustment for changes in fair value of the embedded derivative and adjusted net income will represent our net income excluding only the after-tax impact of amortization of purchased intangibles. This non-GAAP financial measure has certain limitations, including that it does not have a standardized meaning and, therefore, our definition may be different from similar non-GAAP financial measures used by other companies and/or analysts. Thus, it may be more difficult to compare our financial performance to that of other companies.
